

Client contribution rates for The Relationships Service

Quality Statement

The Relationships Service offers you highly trained counsellors who continue to maintain and develop their professional skills throughout their career, and all attend regular ongoing training and clinical supervision.

The Relationships Service also offers counsellors in training. These counsellors have passed an assessment to start work following initial training, supervision and group work. If you want to know if your counsellor is in training, please ask.

The cost to our not-for-profit charity of delivering each session is £92. For those clients who cannot pay the minimum contribution of £92, there is a means tested fund for financial help. We can often assist with up to 75% of the cost of counselling. Please ask for a financial assistance application form.

Please be assured that the service you receive is not affected by your contribution.

The Relationships service is for everybody. We ask you to pay an amount according to what you can afford so we can support more people. Please use the guide below:
